WHO WE ARE

Based in Bellingham, RE Sources is a regional nonprofit dedicated to protecting our region's lands, waters, wildlife, climate and communities.

Our team is made up of passionate, trusted and time-tested environmental advocates, educators and scientists. We are movement and coalition-builders focused on amplifying all voices and giving people impactful ways to safeguard the place we love.

Program areas include protecting the Salish Sea, forests and watersheds, climate action, fighting pollution, ending waste, and educating for the environment.

OUR COMMUNITY

RE SOURCES

Our 12,000+ supporters are serious about protecting the places they love, and they can be found patronizing local businesses, restaurants and breweries when they're not outside kayaking, snowboarding, hiking, mountain biking, camping, or snapping captivating photos.

Time and time again, this community shows up and shows out, whether volunteering to clean up our local beaches or calling on local decision makers to prioritize our climate and environment.

RE SOURCES

My real estate business depends on maintaining the beauty and bounty of our Pacific Northwest home. My clients, including generations of local families and folks moving here, are drawn to this special place because of its spectacular beauty, easy access to the salt water, lakes, forest trails, hiking, and slopes of Mt Baker. I know I can count on RE Sources to protect these things that we cherish and I am grateful for their work!

Presenting Sponsorship

RE Sources will work with you to identify an event or event series that aligns with your goals and values. Your business will be highlighted as the sole presenting sponsor.

Field Visit

Identify an environmental issue that your business is most passionate about and we'll work with you to design a field visit for your staff led by one of our issue experts.

Editorial partnership promotion

Our team will work to share the story of your business's commitment to environmental and climate action through either a local media outlet or our website's popular blog.

E-News Partner spotlight

We'll work with you to design custom content recognizing your business's support and commitment to climate action and regional environmental issues.

E-News logo feature

Your business logo will be included in quarterly issues of our widely-read monthly E-News, The Barnacle.

Impact Report

Your business name will be listed in our annual Impact Report, which is mailed to major funders and shared with RE Sources' full web, social and email audiences.

Google Ad

We'll promote your business with a Google Ad directed at RE Sources' Business Partners page.
